MASONIC BURIAL HOTEL MANAGER Hair Murder

Horace H. Brockway Succumbs to Complication of Diseases Due to Age.

Horace H. Brockway, one of the best known hotel men in the United States, and a Free Mason of high order, why dled yesterday afternoon in his apartments in the Park Avenue Hotel, will be buried from Masonic Hall, Twenty-fourth atreet, near Sixth avenue, Thursday morning at II o'clock. The burial will be in Woodiawn cemetery.

Born in Sutton, N. H., in November, 1836, Mr. Brockway, with his older brother, John, journeyed to Cleveland when he was nineteen years old, and the two established the Cliy Hotel. In 1836 Horace bought out his brother's interest in the hotel, and it began to be a big success. During the civil war it was the headquarters for officers of the Union army who happened in Clevaland.

Just after the war Mr. Brockway came to New York and for a year was manager of the old Broadway Central Hotel. Then he established the Ashland House at Twenty-fourth street and Fourth avenue, which he conducted until a year ago, when he retired from business.

Mr. Brockway, although he employed high salaried chefs and cooks, would not trust the buying to them. For twenty years he rose at 5 o'clock in the morning and drove down to the mar-kets to do the purchasing for his hotel.

dering the Glorious Hair of American Women.

will be in Woodiawn cemetery.

Swissee, the great discovery, quickly Mr. Brockway's death was due to a stops falling hair and dandruff with the age. For the past two months he had been confined to his room.

JACK JILT

Now, here's Jack Jilt, a bachelor who craves the married state, lie's wearied of the single life, and comes to seek a mate.

His preference? That's hard to state— A nature sweet and true.

"A Little Peach," "A Perfect Queen' most any type will do.

II. "The main point is," says Lonesome Jack, "my darling must have charm.
Brains? Yes, but not enough, you know, to cause a chap alarm.
The cuddly sort, the girl for sport—the girl of cash and style—it's hard to make selection, for they're all of them worth while."

III. He picks out one and sends a ring with his proposal lettr;
But ere his present reaches her he loves some other better!
To her he also sends a ring, and cries, "Ah, mairy me!"
But while her answer he awaits he meets a Number Three:

IV. So here's Jack lilt heart torn with doubt, and who this doubt will end?
To every girl who suits his taste a diamond ring hell send.
Are you THE GIRL he's waiting for to be his better half?
Ah, who can tell? But lake a chance, and SEND YOUR PHOTOGRAPH.

Will appear on back page of Maga-SUNDAY WORLD Jack Jilt warts to get engage... You may be just the girl that Jack is looking for.

If Jack Jitt selects you, he will make you a present of a diamond ring, valued at $25. See next SUNDAY WORLD for particulars.
